Forward

For a judicial system to be competent and effective, human resource involved in the administration of justice should also be competent and skilled and in order to meet the above objective, it is imperative and important to carry out appropriate studies and research in the area of legal education, training modalities and in the areas of law. In order to enhance the professional competency of the human resources involved in the legal sector, National Judicial Academy was established as an umbrella organization through the National Judicial Academy Ordinance, 2060 and subsequently the Academy was established pursuant to the National Judicial Academy Act, 2063. The objective of the Academy is to carry out training, research and study in the area of law and justice so as to enhance the professional capacity of the human resource involved in the legal sector.

The Academy from its very inception has been conducting programs vis-à-vis trainings, interactions and seminars for those human resources affiliated with the justice sector. The programs have been targeted particularly for the judges, government attorneys, court officers and Ministry of Law and Justice and legal professionals. In addition to this, the Academy however limited it may have been has also been providing and conducting programs on capacity enhancement for non-gazetted employees of quasi-judicial bodies and judicial service. Likewise, the Academy has been carrying out studies and researches on relevant issues related to law and justice sector and reports related to these studies and researches have been published and distributed among the concerned stakeholders. The activities of the Academy have been constantly increasing among the concerned stakeholders and human resources. Albeit with the limited human resources available with the Academy, the Academy during this fiscal year nevertheless has been successful in completing majority of its programs that had been identified by the Executive Committee of the Academy and subsequently endorsed by National Judicial Academy Council. Relationship and coordination with various national and international organizations and institutions have resulted in strengthening and developing the Academy.

The Academy despite its small organizational structure, human resources, limited budget and physical infrastructure has been able to complete its planned activities. Nevertheless, in order to achieve the Academy's objectives, the quality and effectiveness of the Academy's activities and programs implemented by the Academy needs to be enhanced and in order to achieve this lot of work need to be accomplished. The responsibilities and area of activities of the Academy has been constantly increasing day-by-day and in this context, the Academy experiences difficulties in addressing the training need requirements deemed necessary for the concerned stakeholders. As projected by the Academy, the Academy has not been able to extend its area of studies and research and neither has it been able to publish its training resource materials. Likewise, the Academy has not been able to fully develop its faculty and neither has it been able to strengthen its institution. Nevertheless, the Academy has been trying to address those limitations and problems and subsequently the Academy is committed towards establishing the Academy in the form of a competent, capable and effective intellectual organization and in this regard, the Academy expects positive cooperation and coordination from all its concerned stakeholders, justice actors and intellectual class.

Achievements and Challenges of the Academy

4.1. Achievements of the Academy

The Academy was established on Chaitra 4, 2060 through the National Judicial Academy Ordinance and presently the Academy is operational through the National Judicial Academy Act, 2063. Although, the Academy does not have a long history of its establishment, the Academy nevertheless has been successful in spreading its fame and image at the national and International Level. The Academy through the government grant and through the cooperation and coordination with various national/international governmental and non-governmental organizations has been able to enhance the capacity of the human resources through trainings, conferences, seminar, and interaction and talk programs.

Relevant studies and researches in the area of law and justice has been carried out by the Academy and publications of its studies and researches have been made thereby disseminating legal information and the Academy has provided its contribution to reform in the law. The Academy has provided training to the human resource of its concerned bodies and has been using them as a part of their extended Faculty. Through this, the Academy not only has had the opportunity of using these human resources as resource persons but also the capacity of the said institutions has also enhanced considerably. During this year, the Academy through government grant and through the cooperation and coordination of various donor agencies and organizations had conducted 82 trainings, workshops, seminars and talk programs wherein 2,283 human resources (judges, government attorneys, court officers and employees, legal practitioners, police and officers of quasi-judicial bodies) have been trained. In the area of law and justice, 9 research activities have been conducted. During this fiscal year, the Academy provided training 2,283 people. Out of the 2,283 people 617 were judges, 362 court officers, 241 government attorneys, 54 legal officers, 111 assistant level employees, 373 legal practitioners and 525 other people (representatives from police, civil societies, Professors and organizations/institutions). Likewise, research oriented and other materials were also published by the Academy wherein 11 studies and resource materials were published by the Academy.

Contacts with various donor agencies, national and international organizations have been expanded and there has been an increase in cooperation and coordination with these organizations. With the objective of maintaining sustainable development of the Academy and acquiring long-term assistance, the act of developing and strengthening relationship between the organizations has been a matter of priority for the Academy. Likewise, with the aim of developing the institutional capacity of the Academy, various studies and observation visits have been carried out to countries having similar institutions. In this regard, a 6 member team under the leadership of Mr. Raghav Lal Vaidya, Executive Director of the Academy paid an observation visit to South Korea. Other members of the team included honorable justice Mr. Til Prasad Shrestha, Faculty Member of the Academy, Dr. Ram Krishna Timalsona, Registrar, Supreme Court and Member of Executive Committee, Mr. Jivan Hari Adhikari, Secretary, Judicial Council and Member of the Executive Committee, Mr. Lal Bahadur Kunwar, Registrar of the Academy and Mr. Paras Paudel, Statistical Officer. The said amount has been deposited in the account maintained by this Academy in Bank of Kathmandu and Nepal Investment Bank. Rs. 23,10,363 has been deposited during this fiscal year in the account of the Academy.

4.2. Challenges for the Academy

Having mentioned the achievements of the Academy, the Academy nevertheless is not devoid of challenges. Major problems and challenges of the Academy are as follows:

1. Faculty Development

The faculties under the Academy have an important role to play so as to make the activities of the Academy effective and impactful. Primarily, conduction of training program, research and expansion of relationship with international organizations falls within the ambit of the faculty. Although permanent posting have been prescribed for the faculties, the posts are yet to be fulfilled. Responsibility of the faculties are entrusted to honorable justices of the Supreme Court, Court of Appeals and District Courts and high level officers of the judicial service who are on deputation. Development of the faculties in terms of studies, research and trainings, knowledge of international language and promotion of collaboration with international organization remains a challenge for the Academy.

2. Umbrella Training Academy

The National Judicial Academy is an autonomous body established pursuant to the National Judicial Academy Act, 2063 and is the principal institution catering towards providing training in the legal sector and exchanging legal information. Nevertheless, in practice this Academy has not been able to be established as an umbrella Academy. Where training is being provided by the concerned stakeholder institutions of the Academy and other organizations, the Academy needs to strengthen its institutional capacity and establish itself as an umbrella training Academy and this also remains a challenge for the Academy.

3. Development of Human Resource

Human resources involved with the Academy play a significant role in effectiveness of the Academy. Although, there are various postings in the Academy the Academy has not been able to fulfill those postings. During this fiscal year, 4 officer level employees were appointed wherein the Academy with this posting has 7 officer level officers and 1 assistant level employee as permanent employees. The remaining personnel working with the Academy are either on deputation or on contract. Although, the academic level for the human resource working in the Academy is high, lack of proper incentive has resulted in the deficiency of competent and skilled employees. Therefore, in order to make the service of the Academy competent and skilled proper incentive is required and this is another challenge for the Academy.

4. Lack of Physical Infrastructure

The Academy was provided with the ownership of the building located at Harihar Bhavan and although the building was reconstructed and renovated, the Academy still lacks sufficient space and physical infrastructure which is one of the pressing problems for the Academy. The Academy which is deemed to be an institution providing national level trainings lacks modern training halls, hostel and sufficient vehicles.
